Oil surveys cause big booms

By BRENT MACEY

Large booms which rocked Bay St. Louis and surrounding areas intermittently for more than an hour Tuesday were caused by a seismic survey crew testing for potential oil drilling sites in the Mississippi Sound directly off-shore from Bay St. Louis.

Fishermen on the American Legion Pier in Bay St. Louis said they witnessed a survey boat begin testing within 1,000 feet of the shore just west of the pier.

They reported seeing small fish jump from the water within a second of the blast which shook the pier violently.

No dead fish were reported after the blasts.

Diane Hunt, a wetlands permit investigator with the Bureau of Marine Resources in Long Beach, stated she felt Petty-Ray Geophysical of Metairie, La. was the company conducting the survey for Chevron Oil.

She said Petty-Ray received a permit in November from both the United States Corps of Engineers and the Mississippi Department of Natural Resources to conduct the survey.

The permit does not say when the company expected to begin, she said.

Hunt noted the company is permitted to survey in a straight line beginning at a point located just offshore from Bay St. Louis between Citizen and Sycamore Streets.

The line proceeds approximately south-southeast for some 20,000 feet, she said, and added, "The survey is done in a manner which we feel is environmentally safe."

Hunt noted the explosives are placed some 130 feet below the water bottom.

She said the sound of the explosion is recorded and later analyzed to determine the feasibility of drilling.

John Michael, a permitting agent with Petty-Ray, said a company crew was in the area of Bay St. Louis this week and the survey should be completed within a matter of days.

He was uncertain if the Petty-Ray crew had begun conducting the survey since he was not in direct contact with the off-shore crew on Tuesday.

He stated he felt another company, Criteria, of Houston, Texas was also in the area and could be responsible for the large booms.

However, BMR officials had no information on any permit being issued that company.

Chris Snyder, with the BMR, stated the survey line proposed by Petty-Ray was revised to avoid all oyster reefs in the Sound.

Snyder noted another company has also been permitted to conduct surveys in the Sound.

That company, Shell Offshore Inc., has obtained a permit to conduct surveys three miles south of Ship Island almost directly on the state and federal water line boundary.

He was uncertain when that testing would begin or if it is already completed. Snyder feels that survey will not be noticed by people on land.

Snyder said he spent a day with a survey crew in a shallow bay in Alabama recently to study effects of the explosions on wildlife.

Snyder claimed the explosions have no impact on fish or water bottoms if the explosions are placed at a depth of more than 100 feet below the water bottom.

Reward offered for emu killer

By BRENT MACEY

A $1,000 reward is being offered to any person who can supply information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person who shot and killed an emu owned by Judge Sanford Levy in Hancock County.

The eight-foot tall bird, which is native to Australia and was one of six in this country, was killed, apparently by a hunter on Tuesday.

Mark Walker, a caretaker at the property, reported he found the bird dead on Thursday near the Jordan River between the Levy's swimming pool and boat house.

"She was about a 100 yards from the main house," he said about the female bird named Bacall.

"She was definitely shot," Walker added.

"I was a medic in the Vietnam War and I know a gun shot wound when I see one."

He estimated the bird had been dead some 48 hours when discovered.

Walker noted Judge Levy is 'very

Hancock Chancery clerk says:

Modernization of office a major '82 achievement

By BRENT MACEY

A more modernized Hancock County Chancery Clerk's Office was listed as his number one achievement in 1982 by E. Michael Necaise, chancery clerk.

Necaise said he and his staff initiated several improvements in the office last year.

The first major improvement cited by Necaise is the June installation of Wang computers in the office.

"The computers have helped us gain more control over the total financial picture in county government," Necaise said and added, "County government is big business."

Prior to the installations of computers, all bookkeeping was done by hand.

"Now it's been simplified and we can get a breakdown of the financial standing of the county every month."

"Before we had computers we never had time to go back and get a breakdown. Most of our time was spent just trying to keep up," he said.

The computer in the office now handles all the county's payroll checks, investments, dockets and accounting.

Necaise claims this achievement boosts Hancock County to the position of a leading county in the state in terms of an accounting system.

In addition to computerization, Necaise cited organization of all county records housed on the third floor of the courthouse as a second major achievement.

Prior to the clean-up, no real organization existed in the room. Books littered the floor, and local attorneys would often spend hours searching for old county records.

Now all books have been organized in chronological order on shelves. A system was devised to account for all persons who use the facility in the event records are discovered missing.

Improved deed service is another area Necaise points to with pride.

"We now offer a one day deed service," he said, noting he is striving for "efficiency and accountability in the office."

"Before, if you came in with a deed, it would sometimes take two weeks to have it recorded."

Another major improvement which Necaise initiated is the microfilming of all county records.

Although the process is not completed, Necaise noted a microfilming camera has been located in the office and filming is expected to begin Monday.

"People may not realize that this is important, but what would happen if the courthouse burned down?"

"Not only would we lose all the valuable records but it would be chaos to find out who owned what and what went where."

Microfilming of all county records is expected to take approximately one and one-half years.

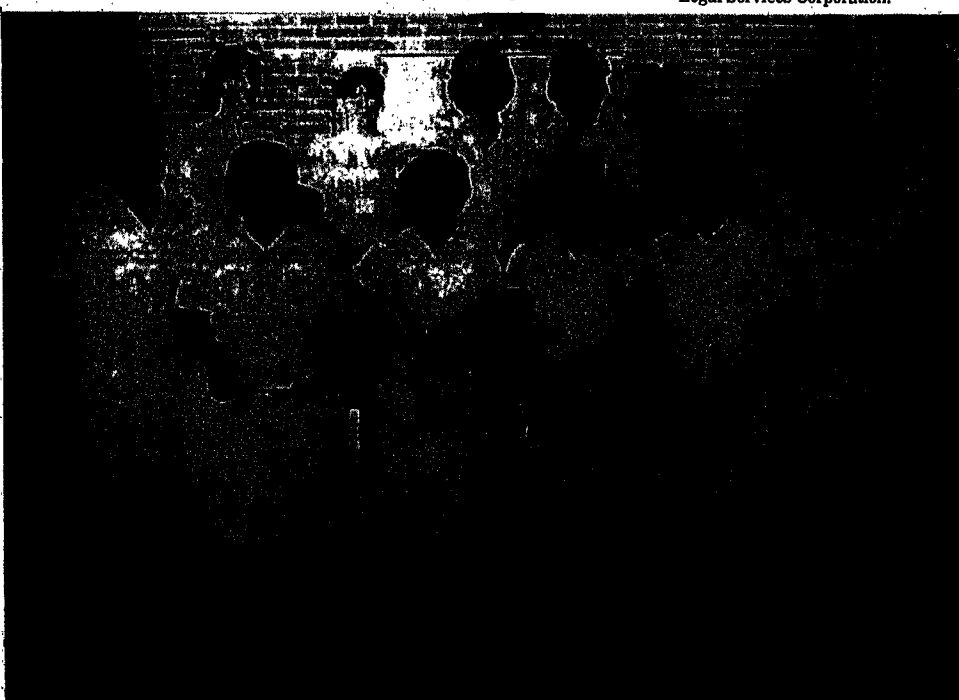

After that time, all new county records can be microfilmed by county employees when they are filed.

While the chancery clerk stated he initiated all the programs mentioned, he also thanked the Hancock County Board of Supervisors for their efforts.

"I want to thank them because it never would have been possible without their approval," he said.

'Discovery of Animal Behavior' series concludes Sunday on METV

The sixth and final program in the miniseries, "The Discovery of Animal Behavior," broadcast weekly over PBS as part of NATURE, explores the relationship of animals to the kinds of communities in which they live and function. The program will be aired Sunday at 8 p.m. and again Saturday, Jan. 8 at 10 a.m. on METV, ch. 19, Biloxi and Hancock Cable, ch. 13.

For centuries, naturalists and zoologists have been trying to discover why animals rarely live alone.

The first genuine insight into the nature of animal societies was provided after World War I by Thorlief Schjelderup-Ebbe, a Norwegian, when he began experimenting with chickens.

In these studies, he discovered the role of despotism as a force for order. The most aggressive and vigorous bird inevitably would establish himself in the center of the arena.

Solly Zuckerman, a South African, began studying baboons in 1929 and also concluded that this society was built on the principle of dominance, overridden, however, by even more powerful attractive forces based upon sex.

The program also focuses on the work of Clarence Ray Carpenter, who experimented with howler monkeys on Barro

Colorado and with wild gibbons in Thailand during the 1930s, and the activities of Frank Fraser Darling, who surveyed populations of grey seals and red deer in a more detailed way than had been achieved before for any species.

In addition, the telecast examines the insect studies of William Hamilton, which led to the publication in 1964 of his theory of "kind selection," and highlights the work of Amotz Zahavi, an Israeli zoologist who studied the family life of the Arabian babbler birds in the Sinai Desert.

In Program Six, Stephen Bridgen is seen as Thorlief Schjelderup-Ebbe; Daniel Hill as Solly Zuckerman; Julian Caldecott as Clarence Ray Carpenter; Gavin Campbell as Frank Fraser Darling; Margaret Ainley as Mrs. Fraser Darling; and Philip Denver as William Hamilton.

The Discovery of Animal Behavior is a co-production of the BBC, RM Productions and WNET/Thirteen, New York.

The miniseries was produced by John Sparks. Program Six was produced by Michael Salisbury.

The series is hosted on-camera by Dr. Donald Johanson, noted paleoanthropologist and director of the Institute of Human Origins in Berkeley, Calif.

Presented over PBS by

WNET/Thirteen as part of the NATURE series, "The Discovery of Animal Behavior" is made possible with funding from public television stations.

David Heeley is the producer of NATURE for WNET/Thirteen. George Page is the executive producer.

RABBIT IS RICH

"Rabbit is Rich" by John Updike, now available in paperback at local bookstores, is about as fine a piece of American writing as you'll hope to find.

"Rabbit is Rich" is the third installment in the series concerning Harry "Rabbit" Angstrom. The first two — Rabbit Run, which was made into a motion picture starring James Caan and Carrie Snodgrass, and Rabbit Redux — simply set the stage for this perfectly paced and beautifully crafted work.

Rabbit now owns a Toyota dealership in Brewer, Pennsylvania. His wife spends her days at the Flying Eagle Country Club playing tennis and her nights drinking gin and tonics and fixing Rabbit T.V. dinners.

And all the while Rabbit's son, Nelson, drops out of Kent State, learns to hang-glide in Colorado and returns home with a pregnant girl named Frii.

Through these everyday realities, Updike blends contemporary events with stunning virtuosity. The OPEC oil crisis, rising gold prices, modern movies, the Iranians seizing the American Embassy in Tehran and, finally, the Super Bowl game between the Los Angeles Rams and the Pittsburgh Steelers, combine to produce a vision of strictly American life.

Updike views these events along with Rabbit's predicaments with humor and compassion and very often punctuates his marvelous passages with incredibly pornographic outbursts, including a highly erotic finale.

Updike, like the late John Cheever, understands that the quotidian contains inherent dramatic content. He pulls this drama from our very soul; the human condition examined and studied yet never reduced to a simple explanation.

Like John Irving's "The World According to Garp" and William Wharton's perfectly marvelous "Dad," "Rabbit is Rich" allows us the chance to see a world we've never seen before, a world we live in every day and yet never question or accurately observe.

"Rabbit is Rich" has won numerous book awards including the coveted Pulitzer Prize for fiction and the National Critic's Award, and deservedly so.

Treat yourself to a fine outing of contemporary literature and read "Rabbit is Rich" over the holidays.

Quotables by Cuevas

The new year has been welcomed, and 1983 is now history.

There should be a lot of interesting happenings in Hancock County in 1983, especially with it being an election year.

We know there are some who are thinking about seeking office, while others in office are wondering if they will have any opponents.

So, we can look forward to a very active year in Hancock County and also the state.

We were very sorry to hear someone had killed Bacall, the emu which escaped from her pen at Judge Sanford Levy's Jourdan River residence.

We sure hope the culprit is caught. Judge Levy is offering a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible, according to his caretaker Mark Walker.

It is a terrible situation when someone goes on a person's property and kills an animal, especially one as rare as an emu.

If you have any information regarding the killing of the big bird, contact the sheriff's office, you could possibly collect a big $1,000.

There are still a lot of 'football widows' with the continuation of all the bowl games, as well as professional series.

It just seemed there was a game on every night of the past week.

Like may folks, we enjoy football, but have gotten a little tired, and are glad the end is soon coming. Then again, not really because the new football league is to spring up in March.

We wonder how many New Year's resolutions have already been broken. We have made some and are trying to keep ours.

One thing we would really like to see in 1983 is better cooperation between some elected officials.

We do not feel it is necessary to specifically identify the particular group, as they know to whom we are referring.

It takes a group effort to do many things, and is almost impossible to accomplish anything whenever you have folks pulling in different directions.

We have come a long way in recent years, and this has been through the efforts of many elected officials working together, and it could continue for a better county and cities.

There is a big need for all officials to agree on a wastewater solution which will be of benefit to all residents.

There have been a lot of discussions on wastewater in recent years, yet, no working agreement on paper between all the political bodies.

We do not know all the answers, and are sure some of the elected officials are probably in the same boat.

We are hoping the problems of wastewater are taken seriously in 1983 and a solution found.

One thing is for sure, the residents of our areas are not the only ones facing the big job of solving wastewater problems.

Crime instead of criminal is evaluated in rehabilitation determinations

To The Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,

I would like to express myself about the prison here and some of the people in it.

Society talks about violent criminals and not letting them go.

Tell me, which is worse, the violent crime or the person who did the crime?

And is it not better to let a rehabilitated violent offender out than to let a nonviolent, non-rehabilitated offender out?

That is why most people come back to prison — because society is looking at the crime and not the person. And that's wrong!

The offender needs to be looked at and they don't have any kind of program here to evaluate the hard criminal from a young guy who made a big mistake and will do anything to try to repay for the crime he has done.

So many times prison life hurts young men and so many times the young men don't need time, but need help.

It doesn't only hurt him but his family also.

I can understand certain times when there are individuals who are beyond rehabilitation due to mental conditions. But there must be a better process of evaluation that could better discern the qualities of each individual in deciding what prevails.

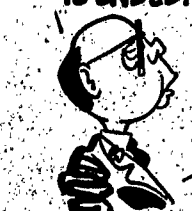

This brings one thought to mind — do these people who decide who stays in and who gets out ever have an opportunity to view each person from all aspects of his incarcerated existence?

Something should be done and society must know that everyone here is not a hard criminal.

Senator Cochran reports

TEACHER RECOGNITION
Senator Thad Cochran is co-sponsoring legislation that would give special recognition to America's teachers.

"We owe a debt of gratitude to this special group of dedicated individuals. We entrust our children to our teachers, knowing we can rely on them to help prepare our young people for the future. This is a fitting tribute," Cochran said.

The resolution Cochran is co-sponsoring would set aside April 13, 1983 as National Teacher Appreciation Day.

Cochran said the special recognition is especially appropriate at a time when the nation's teachers are being called on to restructure the educational system to meet technological demands of the market place.

"Although we have always placed tremendous responsibilities on our teachers, we're expecting even greater service from them as they prepare our young people for the new technologies," the Senator commented.

Cochran noted there has been an increasing emphasis on teacher training and re-education programs from within the education community. He commended teachers for their efforts to continually upgrade the requirements of their profession.

"The teaching profession is one that requires careful preparation, and should be one of the most recognized," Cochran said. "I hope my colleagues in the Congress will join with me in this most appropriate tribute."

INTERIOR FUNDS

Congress has passed and the President has signed into law a Department of Interior appropriations bill containing 1983 funding for Natchez Trace Parkway construction and other projects and facilities in Mississippi.

Senator Cochran, a member of the Appropriations Committee, said he was pleased the measure provides $9 million for 55 miles of construction of the Natchez Trace. "This parkway needs to be completed as soon as possible," he commented.

Also in the bill are funds to continue operating the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service fish hatcheries at Meridian and Tupelo.

The measure provides $30 million for research in fossil energy through a program at Mississippi State University, and $28 million for a nationwide program of historic preservation of landmarks and structures, which helps promote tourism and economic development.

The bill also includes funds for payments to state and local governments in lieu of taxes on national forest lands and U.S. wildlife refuges.

COMPETITIVE TAXES
As states compete more actively for new jobs through their economic development programs, the level of business taxation becomes more important.

With this in mind, the Mississippi Economic Council recently made a study to determine how Mississippi compares with other states in business taxation. States included in the comparison were Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, Tennessee, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, and South Carolina.

Based on the broad comparison of business taxes among these states, the Council concluded that Mississippi business taxes are generally fair and competitive when compared to adjoining states.

But MEC warned that it is essential that Mississippi protect its favorable business tax climate so as to further strengthen opportunities for economic growth.

And it added: "Although Mississippi's economic expansion has been at a slower pace than Mississippians would have preferred, there has been substantial improvement in recent years. A key factor in this improvement has been the maintenance of a favorable business climate, and an essential part of this climate has been the state's tax structure and its tax rates."

The MEC recommends the state's tax structure be monitored to assure that adequate public services are provided while maintaining state taxation at a level that is competitive with other states in the region.

Heart Fund offers help with resolutions

New Year's Resolutions are easily made — and broken.

The Hancock County Chapter, American Heart Association is encouraging area residents to make — and keep — some resolutions that will help make 1983 healthier and, thus, happier.

From the perspective of one's heart and blood vessels, worthwhile resolutions include:

- (1) Stop smoking — or, if you don't smoke, don't start.
- (2) Have your blood pressure checked, and if it is elevated, follow your physician's counsel.
- (3) Reduce, if overweight.
- (4) Eat foods that are low in saturated fats.
- (5) Begin an appropriate exercise program.

The Mississippi Affiliate of the American Heart Association offers without charge numerous publications, including, "How to Stop Smoking," "High Blood Pressure: Facts You Need to Know," "A Guide for Weight Reduction," "Recipes for Low Cholesterol Meals," "E is for Exercise" and "Walking for Fun and Fitness."

Charles Johnson Jr. of Waveland, Hancock Heart Fund chairman, noted the risk factors for heart attack and stroke are outlined in the brochures "Why Risk Heart Attack?" and "Reduce Your Risk of Heart Attack."

To secure free copies of any or all of these brochures, call 981-4721 or write Heart, P. O. Box 16063, Jackson, MS 39236.

"Cardiovascular disease is the No. 1 cause of death in our state and nation — We're Fighting For Your Life!" Johnson added.

The Bottom Line

Candid Answers To Your Questions About Advertising and Business Topics

By S. GALE DENLEY
Associate Professor of Journalism
University of Mississippi

What advantages are unique to newspapers as an advertising medium? I'm Trying To Decide What To Do.

Dear ITTD: Roger Simon, whose column in the Chicago Sun-Times is syndicated through the Los Angeles Times, to some 100 newspapers, recently discussed a newspaper advertising in a column that appeared in Advertising Age.

He used two approaches. First he called an advertising man and got some very sensible reasons for people to buy ads in newspapers:

- Depth of reach. Newspapers reach more people than any other medium every day.
- Time lines. If you decide on Friday to put your ad in next week you can do that with a newspaper. An electronic campaign can take months or even years to prepare and get on the air.

• Changes at the last minute. If you want to put a price change in at the last minute, all it takes is a phone call.

• Better results instantly. Results can be measured at the cash register virtually the same day the ads run.

"Like I said," Simon wrote, "that's from a man who knows advertising from an advertiser's point of view."

"But because I know it from a consumer's, I know there are some other reasons newspapers are a good place to put an ad."

Superintendent's Report

By TERRELL RANDOLPH

Superintendent, Hancock County Schools

Following is a summary of the provisions of the Education Reform Act of 1982.

• Mandates statewide kindergartens beginning in fall 1986, supported by state funds that are limited to $40 million annually. Kindergarten provisions automatically repeal in 1990 for review by the Legislature concerning the amount of state money that should be spent.

• Begins a reading aid program in fall 1983 with teaching assistants in first grade. Will be phased in during the next two years to include all of grades one through three.

• Requires children ages 6-14 to attend school, to be phased in starting with children ages six and seven in fall 1983 and adding one year at a time. Does not affect children enrolled in private schools or home instruction, although parents of those children must file a certificate with local school attendance officer stating where the child is being educated. The measure provides penalties of up to one year in jail and/or up to $1,000 in fines for parents and guardians of children not attending school. Allows for use of youth courts prior to imposition of criminal penalties.

• Provides $1,000 across-the-board teacher pay raises, plus increases in the annual experience increments, beginning with 1983-84 school year. Also creates a new AAAA pay scale for classroom teachers who hold a doctorate.

• Establishes effective July 1, 1986, a Commission on School Accreditation, charged with developing a performance-based school accreditation system including a revision in the current state accreditation system. This includes accreditation auditors to conduct random surveys of schools to check on accreditation standards.

• Requires the State Educational Finance Commission to study and recommend to the lay Board of Education a system of school and school district consolidation by July 1, 1985. Requires the board to compel districts to abide by the standards after July 1, 1986, while helping those that cannot abide by the standards to take steps to comply.

• Establishes, beginning in fall 1986, a new provisional teaching certificate, in which teachers and administrators will be observed and evaluated during their first year in Mississippi public schools. A decision will be made at the end of that year whether to allow them full certification, with allowances for up to two additional years for the individual to correct deficiencies.

• Creates, effective July 1, 1983, a Commission on Teacher and Administrator Education, Certification and Development to oversee the certification of teachers and recommend policies to the Board of Education. The commission will set standards for teacher education programs at state universities and outline steps teachers must take to be certified.

• Requires local school districts, with the assistance of teachers and administrators, to design a program of staff development to meet the needs of the professional staff in that district. To be certified, a teacher must complete the program developed by the school district in which the teacher works.

• Establishes the powers of the lay state Board of Education and a state Superintendent of Education, to be appointed by the board in July 1984. Gives the board powers over school management, school accreditation, teacher training and certification, and requires it to develop a five-year program for educational improvement.

• Requires the state Department of Education by July 1, 1984, to study and recommend solutions to the Board of Education and the Legislature on the problems of teachers teaching subjects that they are not certified in and in the social promotion of students from grade to grade.

• Creates a School Executive Management institute to conduct training programs for school administrators, based on evaluations of the needs of administrators across the state. Begins July 1, 1984.

While the education reforms have been the central focus of the special session, the end product includes the largest single tax increase in the state's history at about $110 million.

Starting Jan. 1, a new bracket would be added to the state's individual and corporate income tax.

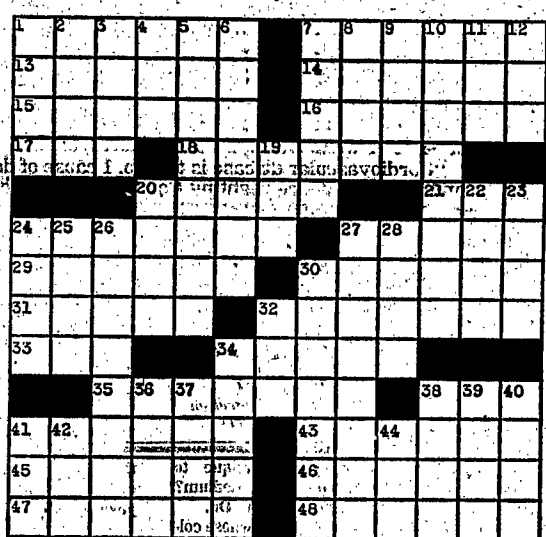

At present, the state taxes 3 percent of the first $5,000 of taxable income and 4 percent on all taxable income in excess of $5,000. Under the change approved Monday, the 4 percent tax rate would apply to the second $5,000 of taxable income while all taxable income over $10,000 would be taxed at a rate of 5 percent.

The Legislature's action represents the first time since 1968 that the income tax has been increased.

The increase is expected to generate $47 million for the fiscal year beginning on July 1983, and $51 million and $55 million in the succeeding years.

The sales tax is to be increased from 5 percent to 5½ percent, effective Jan. 1, 1984. Sales tax receipts are expected to increase by $9 million in fiscal year beginning July 1, 1984 and $64 million and $33 million in the following two fiscal years.

upset over the shooting which Walker blamed on hunters trespassing on the property.

He said the Levy's own some 100 acres of fenced property on Crump Road.

"Some of the property is double fenced," Walker noted.

"They (the Levy's) have been trying to make it into a game preserve," he said.

Salk's have been placed on the property which contains Chinese deer, wild native deer, and other exotic birds, he said.

"The main thing I do is run hunters off. On the average I have to run off three or four a week."

Walker stated he has seen signs where deer have been shot on the property and dragged through the Levy's fences to adjoining property.

The exotic bird was one of two owned by the Levy's. The other male bird, name Bogey, is still in his fenced pen.

Bacall escaped from the emu pen earlier this month after Walker attempted to break up a fight between the birds. He said Bogey was attempting to mate with Bacall for the first time.

"I never thought she had left the property," Walker said about Bacall's escape.

"I'd seen places where the grass was matted down and some of her feathers. They have very distinct feathers," he said.

Walker thinks Bacall would come to the fence to see her mate.

Some of the bushes outside an area of the fence had been crushed down from what Walker thought were Bacall's visits to her mate.

Walker said Bogey has been 'real lonely' since Bacall's escape and has been acting 'mean.'

At other times he said Bogey will simply stand near the section of the fence where Bacall came to visit.

"He'll stand there sometimes for three or four hours."

In an attempt to solve the lonely bird's problem, Walker said he will be going to New Orleans to find an ostrich since emus are so rare.

But he doubts Bogey and this new bird will mate since they are different types of birds, but he hopes they may become companions.

Stern, Weston wed at St. Paul's

Marilyn Marie Weston became the bride of William John Stern in an afternoon ceremony Saturday, December 18 at St. Paul's Catholic Church in Pass Christian with the Rev. Msgr. James McGough officiating. A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. John McKenna, organist, with soloist Miss Laurel Henegar of Gulfport.

Readings were offered by Mrs. Sheila Skinner of Long Beach.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Weston of Pass Christian and granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Wittmann Sr.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Stern of Biloxi and the grandson of Mrs. Ellen Romeo of Biloxi.

and the late Lawrence Romeo. Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of ivory jersey featuring Victorian styling with deep V of English net on the bodice outlined with pearl-embossed and wedge-wood lace and full bishop sleeves with lace cuffs. The crystal-pleated skirt was bordered with venise lace and ended in a chapel length train. A satin bow provided interest at the back of the gown. She wore a wreath of ivory silk flowers and a fingertip veil of illusion.

The bride's bouquet was an old-fashioned nosegay of ivory silk roses, lilies-of-the-valley and baby's breath.

Mrs. Lola Alpaugh of North Linthicum, Md. attended her sister as matron of honor.

Other attendants were Mrs.

Catherine Griffin of New Orleans, La., sister of the bride; Mrs. Mary Ellen Pugh of Biloxi, sister of the groom; and Mrs. Diane Arnst of Lawrence, Kansas.

Miss Margaret Weston of Prairieville, La., niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Eric Stern, of Baton Rouge, La. was ring bearer.

Mitchel Taylor of Kenner, La. served as best man.

Groomsmen were Alan Stern of Biloxi, brother of the groom; Dr. Charles Weston, Prairieville, La., brother of the bride; David Scebbi, Baton Rouge, La., and James Weston of Pass Christian, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents hosted a reception at the Pass Christian Yacht Club. After a wedding trip to Cozumel, Mexico the couple will reside in Baton Rouge, La.

Pre-nuptial parties
On the eve of the wedding, the groom's parents hosted the wedding party, out-of-town guests and members of both families with a rehearsal dinner at the home of the bride's parents in Pass Christian.

A miscellaneous shower was held on Nov. 26 in the home of Mrs. Carolyn Smith in Pass Christian. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Sheila Skinner and Mrs. Susan McDonald.

Mrs. Martha Myers was hostess to a bridal shower in Baton Rouge, La. on Nov. 18.

Library Friends name advisory body

Four prominent Hancock County citizens have been appointed by Mrs. Joe Pilet, coordinator for Friends of the Hancock County Library System, to serve as an advisory board to the group. The committee is composed of Dr. Marion J. Wolfe Sr., and Messrs. Norton Haas Sr., Charles F. Gottschalk, and Roy Baxter.

Mrs. Pilet said: "I selected this group of distinguished men because they are well known, well liked, and have made excellent contributions to our community."

Purpose of the committee, Pilet said, is to formulate goals for 1983 which are realistic and should be given priority in The Friends' endeavor to be of service to the library system in Hancock County.

Pilet said all goals, plans, and programs will receive the approval of the Library Board prior to final acceptance.

"Our responsibility," said the coordinator, "is to promote the services of our fine library system which offers a wealth of materials for all ages, all interests, and almost all conditions."

She pointed out the availability of large print books, "talking books," reference books, popular magazines and periodicals as well as information service.

On the first Thursday of each month beginning at 7:30 p.m., Friends of the Library presents a program provided by talented persons interested in promoting the cultural climate of Hancock County.

The programs are varied and there is no charge for admission. All interested persons are invited.

Money Talk By Norine Barnes

It may sound as though you can't get credit unless you already have proved your credit worthiness, but it's not really that difficult. Two common ways of establishing a financial history are simple.

The first is to apply to a local department or retailer for a charge account in your own name. Make small purchases that you are sure you can afford, and pay your bill each month promptly. This method has the advantage of being inexpensive in that there are no finance charges if you pay your bill in full by the due date.

You also can help to develop a credit record by opening a checking and/or savings account in your own name. If you are a married woman, it is important to open accounts in your own name because "Mrs. John Edward Smith" is a social title, and it could refer to a succession of women. You, yourself, are "Mary Robinson Smith" and should use this name when establishing your own credit.

Make sure that you do not overdraw this checking account since the most important part of a credit history is to have a blemish-free record. When you have established your reliability, you may want to apply for a loan.

Again, repay it on time. This second method takes longer and is more costly, but it is the best recommendation for future credit.

It takes time to build a good credit rating, because lending institutions look for a pattern of responsible borrowing which can only be established by prompt payment of your obligations over a period of time.

ATTENTION HANCOCK COUNTY AGRICULTURAL PROPERTY OWNER:

The Mississippi State Tax Commission directs that all properties shall be assessed at market value, unless the land is deemed to be used for agricultural purposes. Miss. Code of 1972, Section 27-35-50 qualifies agriculture land for use value as follows: "The land shall be deemed to be used for agricultural purposes when it is devoted to the commercial production of crops and other commercial products of soil, including but not limited to the production of fruit and timber or the raising of livestock or poultry." Commercial production then is the only limiting factor. In order to qualify for use value of agricultural land, the following criteria must be met:

1. Any land that is producing a crop or commercial product of the soil must have a gross income of at least $50.00 per acre or must be over 20 acres in size.
2. The taxpayer must apply for use value between January 1 and April 1 of each year by making application as provided in Section 27-35-49 Mississippi Code of 1972 annotated. This application must be on the form prescribed by the State Tax Commission.
3. A three acre homestead will be valued separately for each parcel that has a residence. This homestead will be valued at market price.
4. Improvements to the land such as dikes for catfish ponds will be added at cost.

In accord with the directions from the Mississippi State Tax Commission, this office is forwarding applications to all known property owners for land use value on property. Please return this application to the Tax Assessor's Office, Post Office Box 192, Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi 39520, prior to April 1st. As always, this office will be happy to assist you in this endeavor. If you do not receive your application after the 1st week of January and are eligible, please contact this office and forms will be provided.

Educator seeks strengthening state math, science programs

Gulf Coast Junior College President J. J. Hayden, Jr. plans to meet with Gov. William Winter to discuss the need for strengthening math and science programs in state schools as a step toward training students to work in high technology fields.

"I want to re-emphasize to the governor how important it is for young people to have the proper educational background to enable them to specialize in various technologies, computers especially," Hayden said of the pending session with Winter in Jackson.

Hayden said "computers and robotics are revolutionizing industry and business," and that "junior colleges have an obligation to offer programs that will turn out qualified specialists in every electronic field."

Citing the poor economy as one reason some industries and businesses have been reluctant to install new equipment, Hayden said countries like Japan "have updated their technology and are using sophisticated equipment to produce more and better goods for less money."

"It is time to catch up, the way we did right after World War II, by putting in new equipment, especially in the automobile and steel industries," he added.

Hayden predicted that robotics will replace some workers in the labor force. "This is all the more reason why our people need a good education, beginning in the first grade and right on up through graduate programs."

But for educational programs to be successful,

Hayden believes the students who populate them must be motivated. "Not only by parents and those of us in education, but by people in industry and business as well. One way they (the latter two) could help is by offering more scholarships to deserving students."

Some students will continue to be helped by remedial programs that are designed to cure deficiencies in subjects such as reading, English and math, Hayden noted.

"We must maintain and expand developmental education and our state lawmakers have got to recognize its importance and fund it," Hayden said.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

"I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." — John 10:10

By Sharon Murphy

TO ALL SEEKERS OF THE ABUNDANT LIFE,

It is my most sincere and fervent prayer that everyone reading this column will be able to taste of the 'abundant life' to be found only in Christ Jesus.

The Psalmist wrote of God, "O taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in Him!" (34:8)

If you are not yet a true 'born again' practicing disciple of Jesus Christ, let me invite you to partake of the one who is Lord of all nations and Master of all people. The inspired Psalmist promises that when you taste of Him, that you will find that the Lord is good. He then says "Happy is the man that trusteth in Him."

As we stand at the threshold of another year the subject of time naturally comes to our minds. Without embellishment, here are some of my favorite quotations on the subject.

"Time is the chrysalis of eternity." — Richter.

"As if you could kill time without injuring eternity!" — Thoreau.

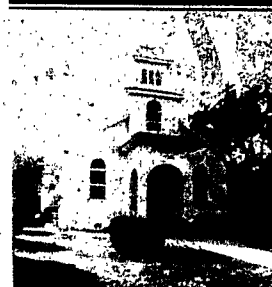

"All my possessions for a moment of time." — Last words of Queen Elizabeth I.

"Know the true value of time: snatch, seize, and enjoy every moment of it; no idleness, no laziness, no procrastination, never put off until tomorrow what you can do today." — Chesterfield.

"...The time for my departure is at hand. I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Now there is in store for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the Righteous Judge, will award me on that day — and not to me only, but also to all who have longed for his appearing." (2 Timothy 4:6-8) — Paul.

Time is such a precious gift.

from God. Don't waste it! Have a happy and healthy and abundant New Year!

By FATHER BERNARD KELLER

Revelations are surprises: what we did not know is now suddenly made clear. In the Epiphany feast, God reveals Jesus as messiah and king. The surprise may frighten us and make us keep our distance. Or it may attract us, drawing us to lay our gifts before the Lord.

Hancock Library Friends program to feature antique jewelry expert

By JOE PILET
Coordinator
Friends of Library

Antique jewelry will be the topic of a program to be sponsored by Friends of the Library Thursday, Jan. 6 beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Main Library on Highway 90, Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Elizabeth Claggett, an authority on antique jewelry will use slides and display choice objects embracing the Renaissance, Georgian, Victorian and Art Nouveau and Art Deco.

Terminology of jewelry as well as properties of gems and metals will also be covered.

Sponsoring Mrs. Claggett is the Reverend Mark Jumper of the newly established Diamondhead Community Church.

Mrs. Claggett, a graduate of Smith College in Northampton, Mass. together with her husband, Strabo Claggett, moved to the Gulf Coast two years ago from Lake Forest, Ill., and now live in Diamondhead.

For five years prior to their move Mrs. Claggett owned and operated an antique jewelry and silver store in Half Day, Ill.

Her shop was said by the Chicago Tribune to be "one of the more interesting shops in the area."

Mrs. Claggett said: "I plan to spend about 20 minutes with slides and comments, after that I will be happy to answer questions or to identify and appraise any jewelry submitted by those in attendance."

Since gem stones are fascinating and exciting objects it is expected that the January program will attract a large audience.

High value has been placed on gems since earliest times due to their unique properties.

For example, the depth and purity of emeralds inspired reverence in Pre-Columbian societies, and large emeralds became the object of worship, according to Joel Arem whose book 'Gems and Jewelry' has achieved wide recognition internationally.

King James version of the Bible contains more than 1,700 references to gems!

What are gems? Gems are minerals; however, not all minerals are useful as gems.

Of about 2,400 mineral species only about one hundred have been cut into gemstones.

Marketing of gemstones and properties that are factors in determining the worth of jewelry will be covered in Mrs. Claggett's talk.

Following the program,

Mrs. Olive McKenna will lead the group in a songfest of tunes of yesteryears.

Refreshments will be served in the Crawford Memorial Room. All interested persons are invited to attend this meeting. There is no admission charge. Students are welcome as well as winter visitors to the Gulf Coast.
